If there is a section called “requisite” you will not be able to enrol in this course unless you have completed a similar subject to the course(s) listed in this section. (Please ignore pre-requisites that only reference course replacements).

As an example, MATH2310 Calculus of Science and Engineering lists the below requisite:

Requisite ?

Course Pre-Requisite:

Must have successfully completed the following course(s):

At least one course from:

MATH1120

MATH1220

Therefore, in order to enrol in this course, you will need to show a course on your home university transcript that is equivalent to MATH1120 or MATH1220.

If you wish to take a course with a requisite, we will send your transcript to the course coordinator of the subject who will assess your previous study and decide whether you can take this course on exchange/study abroad.

If there is an “assumed knowledge” section, please read this to ensure you have the foundational knowledge required to complete the course.

This example below is from ECON3009 Urban Property Economics.

Assumed knowledge ?

ECON1001 Microeconomics for Business Decisions or ECON1002 Macroeconomics in the Global Economy

Assumed knowledge will not impact on your ability to enrol in a subject, however, it is not recommended that you enrol in a course unless you have met the assumed knowledge.

To search for courses with no pre-requisites, please tick elective in the filter section.
